Bibleopoly Versus Monopoly

Have you ever played the popular board game Monopoly? Some persons have asked â?• is there a bible Monopoly? The answer is yes. If you are looking for the biblical version of the board game Monopoly then here you have it. Itâ??s called Bibleopoly.

Bibleopoly is a Christian board game filled with fun and messages of faith for 2 to 6 players ages 8 years and over. This is a board game made by Late For The Sky Production Company in Cincinnati.

Wondering how to play Bibleopoly? It is similar to Monopoly hence why some people call it the bible monopoly board game. Though having similarities to Monopoly, this bible board game has differences. Bibleopoly like Monopoly has some elements of property trading however Bibleopoly properties have a bible theme thus property has names of bible cities like Corinth, Tyre and Bethlehem and are the Bibleopoly deeds.

Unlike Monopoly where one tries to bankrupt other players, in Bibleopoly one helps others with the objective of the game being to build a church. Wondering how to build a church in Bibleopoly? Well, a church consists of one cornerstone, three bricks and a steeple which is the playerâ??s token. To start building a church the player has to own three cities of the same color group.

The player acquires a cornerstone by either completing a color group for another player or by doing community service. Bricks can be acquired after getting a cornerstone by giving thirty offerings for each brick. The player can acquire only one brick at a time after completing a turn in which the player lands on or passes â??in the beginning.â?•

The church is complete when all the cornerstones and bricks are acquired and the player gives forty five offerings and uses their token which is the steeple to put on top of the cornerstones and bricks. The first player who completes the church with their steeple is the winner.

Like all games, Monopoly has rules and this christian board game also has rules. Bibleopoly rules include a key one which states that no trading of deeds between players is allowed at any time.

Bibleopoly has Faith cards and Abyss cards in comparison to Community Chest and Chance cards in Monopoly. Players can get Faith cards like â??Recite John 3:16 or lose one turnâ?• or Gal 6:7 â??for whatever a man sows this he will also reap advance the token of your choice to the space of your choiceâ?• or Abyss cards like â??You are swallowed by a great fish lose 3 turnsâ?• or â??wavering faith sends you back 7 spaces.â?•

In the Bibleopoly Christian board game, money is called offerings. In comparison to the board game Monopoly where players accumulate wealth, in the board game Bibleopoly players progress by doing good deeds for example one Faith card reads â??receive 3 offerings from each player for your kindness and generosity.â?•

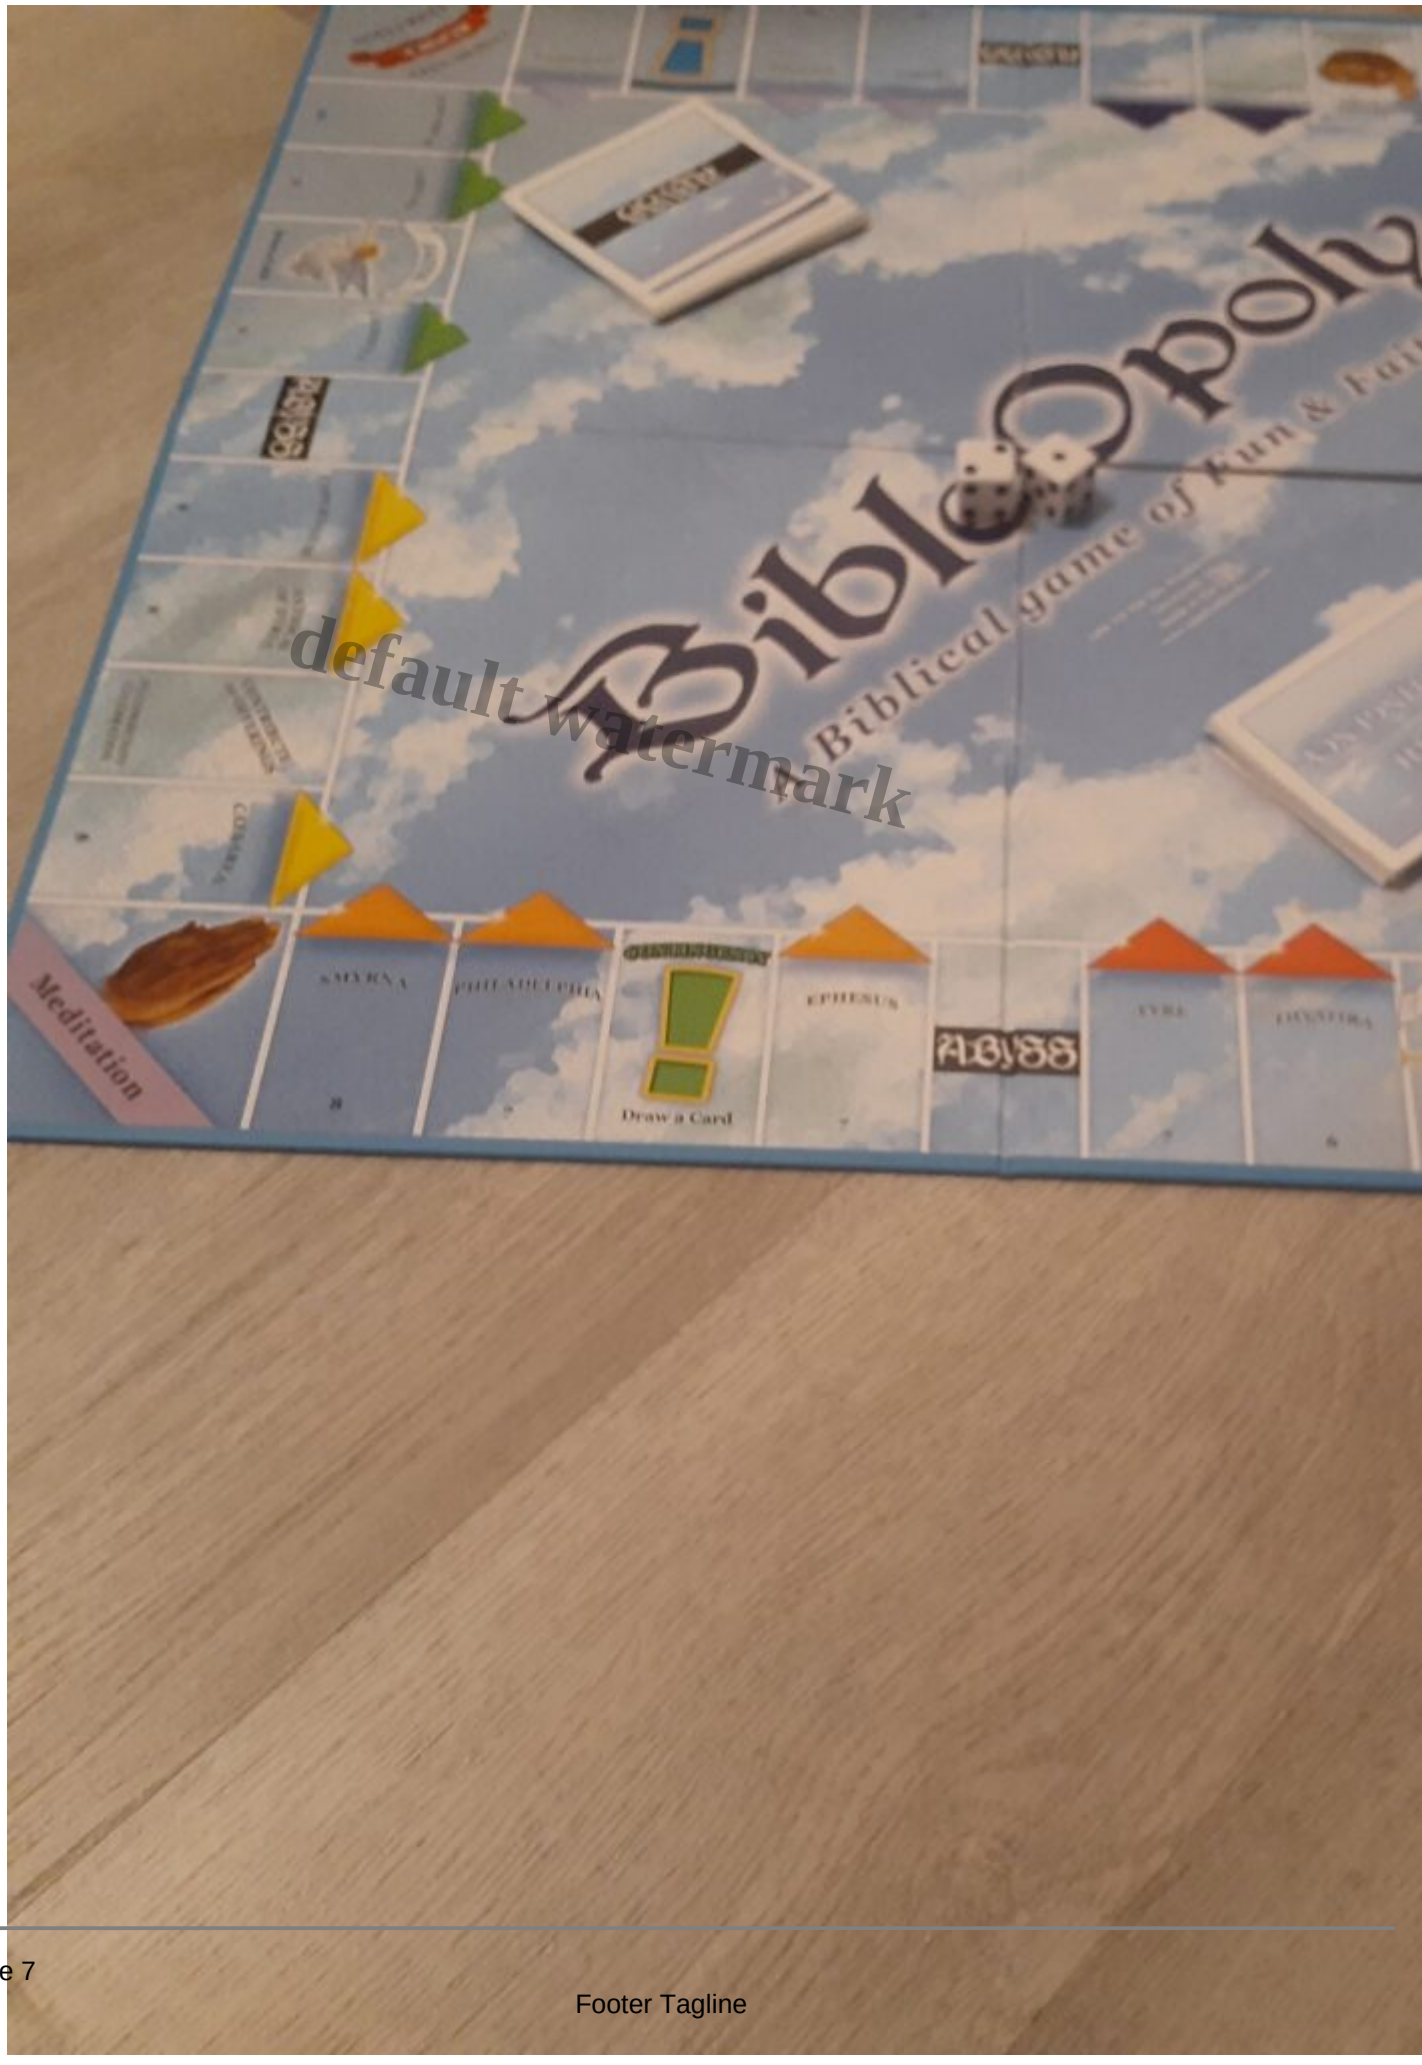

In the Christian board game Bibleopoly, all players stay in the game until a winner is named unlike Monopoly where you can lose players along the way if they get bankrupt. Remember going to jail in the board game Monopoly? Well its â??Go Meditateâ?• in Bibleopoly and you donâ??t really want this option as you will be out of the game for 3 turns. In both games, the players have lots of fun while gaining all the benefits of board gaming.
