

Christian Children’s Book Author? Share 1 Powerful Story and Inspire the Next Generation

Description

default watermark

Are you a Christian children's book author? Share your faith-filled stories with us and help shape the hearts of kids everywhere. Submit your storybook today and reach families looking for Christian storybooks for children and if you are a parent this blog post is also for you so please stick around.

Why Christian Children's Stories Matter More Than Ever

In a noisy world filled with digital distractions and fleeting content, the enduring power of storytelling remains a guiding light—especially for children. For parents seeking to raise their kids in faith, Christian children's storybooks offer more than just entertainment. They plant seeds of spiritual truth, cultivate Godly character, and awaken a love for Jesus in young hearts.

And for the Christian children's book author who crafts these stories your voice matters more than ever.

If you've written a story that reflects Christian values, teaches Biblical lessons, or invites kids into a journey with Jesus, we want to help you share it. Submit your faith-based children's book today and become part of a movement to bring inspiring, hope-filled content to families around the world.

A Message to Parents: You Deserve Stories That Strengthen Faith

As a parent, your deepest desire is to guide your child with love, wisdom, and faith. But finding high-quality Christian kids books can be a challenge. You want stories that reflect your values, that stir curiosity about God, and that invite conversation not preachiness.

That's why we're building a curated collection of Christian children's storybooks from Christian children's book authors that parents can trust books that celebrate God's love, model Christ-like behavior, and make the Bible come alive for little minds.

But we need your help and the help of authors. Parents, read and listen to our stories and tell us what you enjoy and what you would like to see more of.

Message To A Christian Children's Book Author: We Need Your Voice

If you are Christian children's book author you likely did it because God placed a story on your heart. Maybe it's a modern-day parable. Maybe it's a retelling of a Bible story. Or maybe it's an imaginative tale about faith, forgiveness, or courage.

Whatever your story is we want to hear it. We want to help you share it with Christian families looking for exactly what you've written.

Your words could be the very ones that shape a child's understanding of God.

What We're Looking For

We're inviting you: Christian children's book author to submit one book to our platform. Whether you're traditionally published, self-published, or unpublished, we're looking for:

- Faith-based storybooks for children ages 2-12
- Christian values and themes: love, grace, courage, kindness, prayer, forgiveness
- Bible-based stories or stories inspired by Scripture
- Seasonal stories: Christian Christmas books, Easter books, etc.

- Stories for Christian families that support spiritual growth

If your storybook falls into one of these categories, weâ??d love for you to fill out our simple submission form and introduce us to your work.

Why A Christian Childrenâ??s Book Author Should Share A Book With Us?

1. Reach Christian Families Searching for Faith-Based Stories

Many parents are actively searching for faith-based books for kids that reflect their values. By partnering with us, your story gets placed in front of those very readersâ??parents, homeschoolers, churches, and Christian schools who are hungry for stories rooted in truth.

2. Get Support Without the Publishing Hassle

Whether youâ??re a seasoned author or just starting out, getting visibility for your book can be tough. When you submit your book to us, you join a growing library of trusted Christian storybooks for children, promoted across our channels.

3. Join a Community of Purpose-Driven Creators

Youâ??re not alone. When you share your story with us, you become part of a community of authors, illustrators, and Christian creatives united in one mission: to inspire the next generation in Christ.

Christian Childrenâ??s Book Author Stories Change Lives

Think about the first Bible story you remember. Maybe it was David and Goliath. Jonah and the whale. Jesus calming the storm.

These stories arenâ??t just tales. They shape identity, fuel courage, and build trust in God.

Now imagine your story doing that for a childâ??today.

Whether itâ??s a book about overcoming fear, learning to pray, or trusting Jesus during hard timesâ??your story matters.

How to Submit Your Christian Kids Storybook

Weâ??ve made it easy for a Christian childrenâ??s book authors to share their books with us. Hereâ??s how it works:

Step 1: Go to the Submission Form

Christian childrenâ??s book authors please fill out the form here.

Step 2: Share Your Book Info

Tell us your book's title, audience age, and what it's about. You can upload a copy or link to your site if you have one.

Step 3: Tell Us About You

Share a short author bio and why you wrote your story.

Step 4: We Review & Reach Out

If your story aligns with our mission, we'll be in touch to explore next steps. You could be featured in our website or YouTube channel.

For Parents: Encourage the Stories You Want to See

Parents—this is your moment too. Every time you support an author, share a faith-based book, or tag a story online, you help shape the Christian content landscape. If you watch a story on our YouTube channel that you like, give it a thumbs up so we will know to create more of the stories you enjoy.

If you know a writer who's created a storybook that inspired your child, encourage them to submit it. If you're searching for new favorites, stay tuned—our curated library of Christian storybooks for children is growing fast.

You don't have to wait for a publisher to release the next big hit—sometimes the best stories are waiting quietly in the hearts of Christian parents and creatives like you.

Let's Build a Library of Light Together

We believe in the power of stories to teach kids about God.
We believe in the authors who answer God's call to write them.
And we believe in the parents who lovingly guide their children closer to Jesus.

Let's build something together—a community of stories that shine the love of Christ into every home.

Authors: Submit Your Christian Kids Book Here

Fill Out the Form

Parents: Share this blog with Christian writers you know!

Help them share their story with the world.

Final Words: Don't Let Your Story Stay Hidden

If you've written a Christian children's storybook, we urge you don't keep it to yourself. The next generation needs stories that reflect God's love, wisdom, and truth.

Let us help you share your words, your calling, your light.

Submit your book today and join us in shaping the faith of tomorrow's kids—one story at a time.

Want Help Promoting Your Book?

When you submit your story, you may also be eligible for features on our blog or YouTube channel.

Let's shine the light of Christ together.

Category

1. Stories & Books

Date Created

Author

staff-member

default watermark