

How to Have Family Bible Study Time and 10 Steps to Make It Awesome

Description

default watermark

Family Bible study time is one of the most bonding activities you can introduce into your home. It provides opportunities for spiritual growth, thus helping to instill godly values in your children. While the idea is great, maintaining consistency can be challenging for busy families. In this post, weâ??ll share practical tips and provide 10 actionable steps to make daily family Bible time a reality.

This post may contain affiliate links. You can read my full affiliate disclosure here.

The Benefits of Family Bible Study Time

Are there benefits to having a family Bible Study time? Is family Bible study important? Let's take a moment to highlight why family Bible study time is so important.

1. Spiritual Growth: Studying the Bible together encourages everyone in the family to grow in their faith.
2. Stronger Bonds: Spending time together in God's Word strengthens relationships.
3. Biblical Foundation: Kids learn about God's love and guidance
4. Life Lessons: The Bible offers practical advice for everyday challenges.
5. Generational Faith: Daily Bible time will serve as an example of faithfulness for generations to come.

Now, let's get into the practical steps to help your family develop a consistent Bible time routine.

How To Start A Family Bible Study

We will now explore 10 Steps to Make Family Bible Study Time A Reality Every Day. If you are uncertain as to what to do here are some ideas to get going.

1. Set a Regular Time

Consistency can set your family up for success. Choose a time that works best for your family—whether it's in the morning, during dinner, or before bedtime. Establishing a routine will make Bible time a natural part of your day.

Use a family planner, like the Christian Family Bible Study Journal, to schedule and track your Bible time. For other great bible based resources check here.

2. Choose a Comfortable Space

Select a quiet and comfortable area in your home where everyone can gather. This could be the living room, kitchen table, or even a cozy corner with bean bags and pillows.

Add a set of cozy floor cushions or a Bible-themed throw blanket to make the space inviting.

3. Start Small

If you're new to daily Bible time, keep sessions short and interesting. Even 10-15 minutes can have a great impact. Gradually increase the time as everyone becomes more accustomed to this time.

4. Select Age-Appropriate Materials

Use resources suited to your family's ages and understanding. Younger kids might enjoy picture Bibles, while older children can benefit from devotionals or more in-depth studies.

Check out the Jesus Storybook Bible for younger children or the NIV Adventure Bible for older kids. You can also use short devotionals such as this and then talk about it in your family bible study time.

5. Make It Interactive

Bible time can be appealing when it is interactive. Have everyone participate with activities like bible card trivia questions, discussions, and topical bible questions. Ask kids what they think about a story or how they can apply a lesson to their lives.

Use Bible study cards, like the Family Bible Discussion Cards, to spark meaningful conversations.

6. Incorporate Worship

Add a time for singing or listening to worship music together. This can help set a reverent and joyful tone.

Consider a family-friendly worship playlist on platforms like Spotify or purchase a set of Kids's Worship CDs. There are also free bible based songs on youtube which are also great choices.

7. Use Visual Aids

Visual aids can make Bible stories more engaging for kids. Use flannel boards, storybooks, or even videos to bring the Bible to life.

The Bible Felt Board Stories set is a great hands-on tool for younger children.

8. Encourage Participation

Let everyone take turns reading, praying, or leading the Bible time. This encourages ownership and keeps everyone interested

9. Pray Together

Close each session with prayer. Ask everyone to share their prayer requests and thank God for what they've learned. You can have some simple kids prayers such as the ones we discuss in this post.

A prayer journal, like the Family Prayer Journal, can help track requests and answered prayers.

10. Stay Flexible

Life can be unpredictable, so it's essential to adapt. If someone is sick or schedules are tight, opt for a shorter session or a quick devotional reading.

Tips for Overcoming Challenges

Even with the best intentions, challenges may arise. Here are some solutions:

- Busy Schedules: Opt for shorter sessions or combine Bible time with another routine, like mealtime.
- Distractions: Eliminate unnecessary distractions by turning off phones and TVs.
- Lack of Interest: Make sessions engaging with stories, games, or creative activities.
- Different Age Groups: Use a mix of materials to cater to various ages.

What Is A Good Family Bible Study?

There are several options for products to use for a family Bible study and the choice will depend on what your family enjoys. Here are some resources to make your family Bible study time more enriching:

1. Family Devotionals: Indescribable: 100 Devotions About God and Science by Louie Giglio.
2. Children's Bibles: The Action Bible for graphic novel lovers.
3. Interactive Tools: Our Daily Bread for Kids • Bible App.
4. Christian Board Games: Games like Apples to Apples: Bible Edition or Bibleopoly. You can read our review of the Bibleopoly game here.
5. Craft Supplies: A craft kit like Prayer Craft Box.

Encouraging Consistency Through Accountability

To build consistency, consider:

- Setting Reminders: Use alarms or calendar notifications.
- Creating a Chart: Track your progress on a visual chart.
- Inviting Accountability: Share your goals with another family or a church group for mutual encouragement.

Conclusion

Family Bible study time is a beautiful opportunity to grow closer to God and to each other. By following these 10 steps and using the right tools, you can make it a consistent and fantastic part of your daily routine. Start small, stay flexible, and remember—the goal isn't perfection, but faithfulness.

Whether it's reading a story, singing a hymn, or simply sharing a prayer, each moment spent together in God's presence will bear fruit for years to come. Begin today and watch how God blesses your family through this blessed exercise. Happy Family Bible Study time everyone. As per usual if you would like to share something about your Bible study time feel free to write your thoughts in the comments below. God bless.

Category

1. Stories & Books

Date Created

Author

staff-member