Why Use Bible Activities for Kids?

Before diving into the Bible activities for kids, let's look at why these activities matter:

- Engagement: Kids learn best when they're actively engaged. Bible games and crafts help them focus and retain the message.
- Memory Aid: Hands-on activities support memory retention. Kids are more likely to remember the story of David and Goliath if they act it out or make a slingshot craft.
- Spiritual Growth: Fun Bible activities reinforce Christian values, character building, and personal reflection.

1. Bible Story Puppets

This is one of the best Bible Activities for kids. Let kids create puppets using socks, paper bags, or felt. Have them act out Bible stories like Jonah and the Whale, Noah's Ark, or Jesus Feeding the 5,000. This boosts storytelling skills and comprehension. These persons had fun using puppets in this video.

2. Verse Treasure Hunt

Write Bible verses on paper strips and hide them around the house or classroom. Kids hunt for them, then read and discuss what each verse means. This encourages scripture memorization in a playful way.

3. Bible Bingo

Having Bingo as one of the Bible activities for kids is a great idea. Create bingo cards with Bible characters, places, or symbols (like a cross, a fish, or a crown). Call out clues and have kids mark their cards. This is perfect for reviewing stories they've already learned.

4. Bible Activities For Kids Fruit of the Spirit Tree Craft

Draw or create a tree trunk on poster board. Have kids cut out colorful paper fruits and write one of the Fruits of the Spirit on each (Galatians 5:22-23). Add a fruit to the tree each week as they learn about it. You can also help them learn the fruits of the spirit Bible verse using another great method showcased in the video below.

5. Build the Ark Challenge

Using LEGOs or building blocks, challenge kids to construct Noah's Ark. Discuss how Noah obeyed God despite others doubting him, highlighting themes of faith and obedience.

6. Bible Activities For Kids Psalm Painting

Choose a psalm, such as Psalm 23, and let kids illustrate it with watercolor or crayons. Discuss the imagery and what it means to them personally. This allows them to express their faith through art. You could explain the Psalm using videos as kids tend to enjoy visual explanations.

7. Armor of God Dress-Up

Teach Ephesians 6:10-18 by letting kids dress up with labeled cardboard or foam pieces: a helmet of salvation, shield of faith, belt of truth, etc. Act out “putting on” the armor while explaining each part’s purpose.

8. Bible Activities For Kids Prayer Journals

Provide small notebooks for each child to decorate and personalize. Use them to write or draw prayer requests, answered prayers, and reflections on what they’ve learned in Bible time. Bible activities has some free Psalms devotional journal pages for download from our store.

9. Bible Story Charades

Kids pick a Bible story from a hat and act it out silently while others guess. This activity improves story recall and makes scripture fun and interactive.

10. Bible Activities For Kids Creation Collage

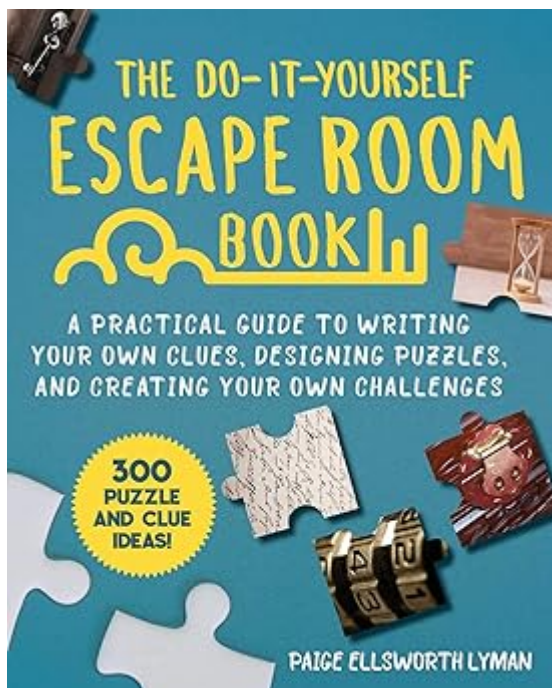

For younger children, read Genesis 1 and have them create a collage with magazine cutouts or drawings to represent each day of creation.

11. Fishers of Men Fishing Game

Create a fishing game with magnets, paper fish, and a "rod" made from a dowel and string. On each fish, write a Bible verse or question about Jesus' disciples. As they fish, kids read the verse or answer a question.

12. Bible-Themed Escape Room

Set up simple puzzles or clues based on a Bible story (like the Exodus or Paul's missionary journeys). As kids solve clues, they move closer to the "escape." This works well with older kids and pre-teens. If you want to create your own Bible themes escape room take a look at Paige Ellsworth Lyman's book.

13. Jesus Calms the Storm Sensory Bin

Fill a bin with water, toy boats, and plastic figures. Create a storm using a fan or by shaking the water gently. Retell the story from Mark 4 and let kids act it out. Discuss Jesus' power over nature and how we can trust Him during life's storms. Just like the disciples felt stress and fear, kids can sometimes feel this way. Here is a post about helping kids with stress and helping them to trust God.

14. Gratitude Garland

Each week, write something you're thankful for on a paper leaf or heart. Hang them on a string to form a growing garland. Link it to Bible verses on gratitude, like 1 Thessalonians 5:18. Saying thank you is important, so for more on this topic check out our post.

15. Bible Character Dress-Up Relay

Divide kids into teams. Place dress-up items (a robe for Moses, crown for Esther, sling for David, etc.) at one end. Kids race to put on the costume, act out the character, then race back and tag the next player.

16. Scripture Memory Hopscotch

Draw a hopscotch board and assign each square a verse or verse portion. As kids hop, they say the verse parts aloud until they've memorized the whole thing.

17. Loaves and Fishes Lunch Pack

Pack a lunch with five crackers and two fish-shaped snacks (like Goldfish crackers). Read John 6, then talk about Jesus' miracle and how He provides more than enough. You can also listen to the story with your kids here.

18. Jesus' Parables Skits

Assign kids a parable (e.g., The Good Samaritan, The Lost Sheep) and give them time to prepare a short skit. Perform and discuss the meaning afterward. This encourages empathy and critical thinking.

19. Ten Commandments Tablets Craft

You can listen to a story about the 10 commandments and then do the ten commandments craft. Use foam sheets or cardboard to make "stone tablets" and have kids write the Ten Commandments in simple language. Decorate and discuss what each commandment teaches.

20. Bible Verse Matching Game

Create cards with Bible verses on one and their references on another. Mix them up, and let kids match them. This is great for verse recognition and recall.

21. Salt Dough Nativity Scene

During the Christmas season, use salt dough to mold figures from the nativity scene. Kids can paint them once they're dry. Use this as an opportunity to share the true meaning of Christmas. For more activities for Christmas crafts take a look at our post here.

22. Paul's Journey Map

Give kids a blank map of the Mediterranean and have them trace Paul's missionary journeys. Add stickers or pins to mark each major event (shipwreck, prison, cities visited, etc.).

23. Beatitudes Flower Craft

Each petal of the flower contains one of the Beatitudes from Matthew 5. Discuss what each one means and how kids can live it out at school and home.

24. Jesus Is the Light Lanterns

Make paper lanterns with verses like John 8:12 written on them. Turn off the lights and let them shine as a reminder that Jesus is our light. Here is also a fun song that talks about Jesus being the light.

25. Bible Trivia Wheel

Create a wheel with categories like Old Testament, New Testament, Miracles, and Verses. Spin and answer trivia questions to reinforce learning in a game-show style.

Final Thoughts

Bible activities for kids offer more than just fun—they build biblical literacy, foster faith development, and nurture spiritual curiosity. By combining Scripture with creativity, we make room for both learning and lasting memories.
