Why Sing Songs?

Singing preschool songs serve many purposes. As Christians we believe in teaching our children the Word of God and preschool songs is an excellent method for helping them to remember Godâ??s word.

Preschool songs serve as great transition songs to help kids easily move from one activity such as play time to another such as story time. These preschool songs often includes actions and so can help to get the â??wiggles outâ?•.

For some reason we tend to remember songs more than spoken words so preschool songs are a great way to help kids remember important truths such as the fact that they are special and loved by Jesus.
