What Is The Best Prayer In The Morning?

Letâ??s be honest, every prayer from the heart is a perfect prayer. No prayer is greater than the other as God hears all prayers. So, as a short morning prayer, you can have the kids say whatever is on their heart. If they are old enough, they can formulate their own prayers and share with God their own feelings but if they are still very young, here are some ideas for choosing those prayers for them.

â?? Choose prayers that are age-appropriate. If your children are young, look for prayers that are simple and easy to understand. As they get older, you can start to introduce more complex prayers.

â?? Choose prayers that are significant to your family. There are many beautiful prayers out there, but if they are not significant for your family, they may not be as effective.

â?? Think about your kidsâ?? personalities. Some children prefer to pray alone, while others may prefer to pray in a group

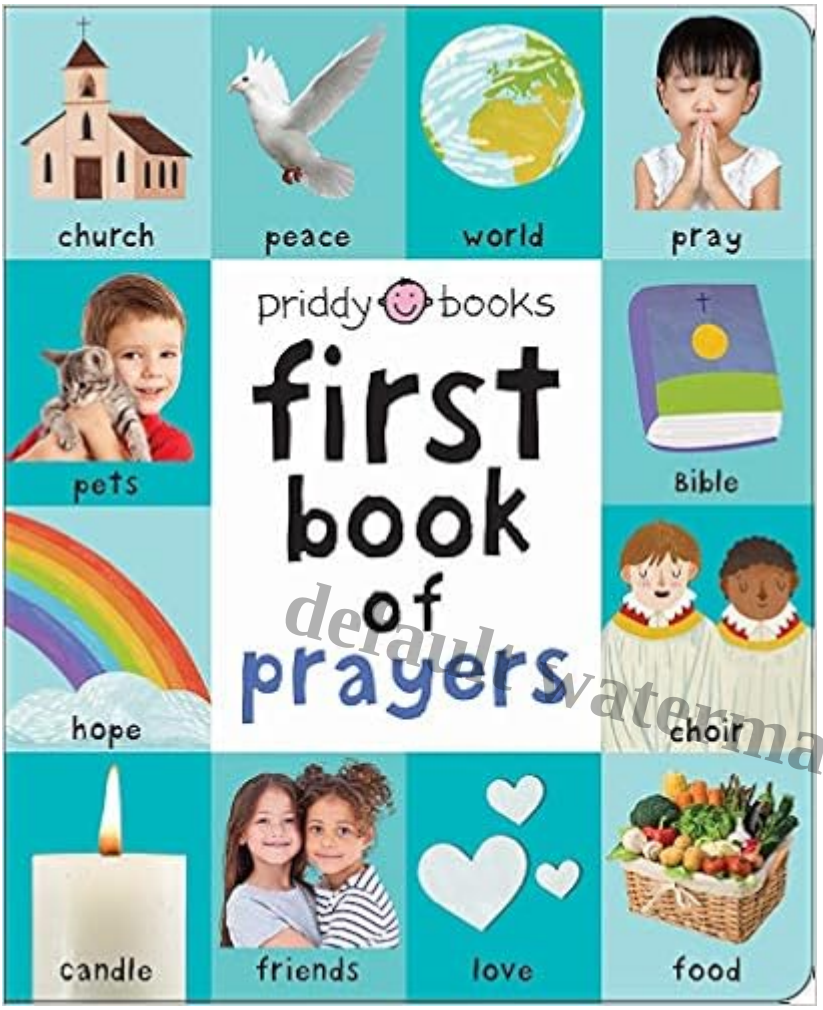

Some resources you can use to help you generate prayer ideas are books. Here are some great kids books about prayer.
